Loving the Lord and Keeping Your Conscience Clear

The Second Reading commands Christians to keep their conscience clear. But this commandment is hard to hear, isn't it? If we are honest with ourselves, we know how unclear our consciences are.

Of course, we might think, confusedly, we do not need to be too worried about our unclear consciences, because, after all, no one is saved by doing good works or keeping one's conscience clear. Our contribution to our salvation is not to try to do the works of the law. Our contribution to our salvation is just to love the Lord.

And this thought might be comforting to us when our unclear conscience hurts us, except for this uncomfortable, nagging question: what is love of the Lord?

In the Gospel Reading, the Lord himself explains the answer to this question: "Whoever has my commandments and observes them is the one who loves me."

And now, unfortunately, we have come full circle. Christians are commanded to keep their consciences clear. To do so, they need to love the Lord. To love the Lord they need to keep his commandments. And to keep his commandments they apparently need to keep their consciences clear. What sense can be made of this?

Here it helps to consider Peter himself, who is the author of the Second Reading. Peter had betrayed the Lord in the Lord's great hour of need. Is this keeping one's conscience clear? Is this keeping the commandments of the Lord?

But, in the days after his Resurrection, when the Lord asks Peter, "Do you love me," what does Peter answer? He says, "Yes, Lord, you know I love you."

In spite of his betrayal of the Lord, Peter does not let go of Christ. He is willing to affirm his commitment to Christ in spite of his own failings.

So here is the thing to notice. In saying that he loves Christ, Peter is keeping the commandment of the Lord. The first and great commandment is to love the Lord.

And this is why Peter, the rock on which the church is founded, is the pattern for all Christians. The way to keep one's conscience clear is to cleave to the Lord in love, when one's conscience is not clear. Eleonore Stump

The Australian Christian Meditation Community Queensland invites you to a morning of meditation, information and discussion on BEING IN THE PRESENT MOMENT. The ability to be in the present moment is an important aspect of Christian Meditation, but we find it very difficult. In this presentation, we will look at aspects of paying attention to the present by using a variety of pictorial (paintings, photos, and YouTube clips) and written materials (prayers, prose, and poems). The aim is to challenge you, promote discussion and ultimately lead to greater attention in meditation. The material could be a gentle introduction to Christian Meditation for new meditators, as well as a "refresher" for established meditators.

When: Saturday, 10th June 2017; Time: 9.30am when morning tea will be served. Please bring your own cup. Where: Uniting Church, Warner Hall, 52 Merthyr Road, New Farm.

Programme: 10am till 12.30pm. Lunch: If you wish to stay after the session till 1.30pm, BYO lunch to have in covered area next to Hall. Suggested donation: $10-15. There will be a clearance sale of books, CD's and videos.

Extraordinary Minister of Communion for Salvation Army

Riverview Gardens - Sacred Heart has a communion ministry team that service Catholics residing at Riverview Gardens. Our present team currently consists of three parishioners as one of our members has now moved away. Our team love visiting residents there and we receive more than we give. Now is a good time to join this happy team because we take communion to 6 residents and it gives us time to introduce you to the various sections of Riverview Gardens and to meet our beautiful residents. Previously we would take communion to 20 people, so you can see that numbers can change. Please contact the Parish Office on 3282 1888 if you are interested in joining this very worthwhile and rewarding ministry as now would be an ideal time to be part of this great team.

Call for Religious Instructors for Our Schools

As we are experiencing some Religious Instructor retirements from schools in our area, we are seeking to fill these vacant positions as soon as possible, following training. If this is something God has put on your heart I would encourage you to take this step as you will find great blessings bringing His Word to His children in our local schools. It is important that we fill these vacancies so that the children who are opted into RI will have an Instructor for their class.

"For it is better to suffer for doing good, if that be God's will, than for doing evil." 1 PETER 3:17

The old line says "if you want to make God laugh, tell him your plans." Many of us are diligent in our planning, making sure things are progressing smoothly, then disaster strikes, we don't get the result that was intended. An unforeseen problem arises. Many times we may respond negatively. Why me? I did everything right! Here's the thing - God has a different and better plan in store for you.

A VOCATION VIEW - That Jesus rose from the dead is our Faith. That we can be reborn in the Spirit is our Hope. That we can do God's work is our Love. Follow God's Call.
