REFLECTION

Pope Francis' Focus

The lack of acceptance that Jesus encountered in 'his home town,' Pope Francis suggests, was the product of habit and prejudice. As the Pope points out, 'it is difficult to open ourselves to what is new and allow ourselves to be amazed.'

Jesus has something of an image problem, in the sense that his fellow countryfolk had a certain image of him they could not shake off. They saw a tradesman, whose family they knew, yet Jesus confounded their preconceptions.

Today's Gospel remains especially relevant for those who cling to certain images of Jesus. There is a risk, the Pope says, that we 'think we know Jesus, that we already know so much about Him and that it is enough to repeat the same things as always.' We can easily slip into comforting habits of religion and a prejudicial type of belief.

The Pope encourages us to embrace 'openness to what is new' and 'openness to God's surprises.' He wants us to be amazed again!

As the Pope puts it, we should be amazed because 'God incarnated Himself: God is humble, God is tender, God is hidden, he draws near to us, living the normality of our daily life.' And what is more amazing than the idea of God being among us?

... that the Gospel of Mark is considered to be the earliest of the Gospels to be composed?

If you were asked who knows you best, what would you say?

How well do you think you know Jesus?

How might we each come to know Jesus better?

In today's Gospel, the Nazoreans are amazed at the Jesus they thought they knew but really didn't.

Are we sometimes guilty of taking someone we know and love for granted?

Why do you think the people's lack of faith prevented Jesus from accomplishing powerful deeds?

What is the link between faith and miracles? (Is there one?)

POPE FRANCIS PRAYER INTENTIONS: July FOR THE PASTORAL CARE OF THE SICK

Pope Francis prays "that the Sacrament of the Anointing of the Sick grant the Lord's strength to those who receive it and to their loved ones, and that it may become for everyone an ever more visible sign of compassion and hope".
Let us remember that people of all ages become sick and to not only thing of one age group. Let us also remember especially any family members and/or friends who visit with and care for those who are ill. They need prayers and consideration as well.

This can then be placed in the usual collection. This is OK for the next 2 weeks.

NATIONAL NAIDOC WEEK 7-14 July

NAIDOC (National Aboriginal and Islander Day Observance Committee) week celebrates Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures and recognises the contributions of Indigenous Australians in various fields. Its origins can be traced to the emergence of Aboriginal groups in the 1920s which sought to increase awareness of the status and treatment of Indigenous Australians. All Australians are encouraged to participate. The 2024 theme is "Keep the Fire Burning! Blak, Loud & Proud", celebrating the unyielding spirit of our communities, encapsulating the unapologetic celebration of Indigenous identity, and empowering us to stand tall in our heritage and assert our place in the modern world. This theme calls for a reclamation of narratives, an amplification of voices, and an unwavering commitment to justice and equality. For more information please google NAIDOC WEEK 2024.

"When I saw that the NAIDOC theme for this year was "Keep the Fire Burning! Blak, Loud and Proud" I wanted to create an art piece that reflected our First Nations cultures. Urapun Muy sums up the rich, multifaceted tapestry that makes up who we are as Blak, Loud and Proud mob. Culture is the fire that burns within us. It is essential to us when we talk about our people, identity, and spirituality. Throughout our lives, it is taught to us by our elders in our rich heritage languages, which have sprouted from our homelands. Culture shows us our roads to one another and how we belong to our Place or Country. It is our lifelong responsibility of learning, teaching and practising culture."

The artwork is "Urapun Muy" by Deb Belyea, a proud member of the Samuawgadhgal, cassowary Clan in Torres Strait.
