REFLECTION
James and John are effectively calling 'shotgun' on the best seats at the table! When they ask to sit at the left and right hand of Jesus, they are asking Jesus to name them as his deputies. They're looking to secure for themselves positions of power and authority. The only problem is that they have a completely messed up idea of what it means for Jesus to enter into his glory. For several weeks now, we have been exploring a theme from the Gospel of Mark that follows a physical journey towards Jerusalem as well as a symbolic and theological journey towards what is going to occur in Jerusalem – Jesus' arrest, crucifixion and resurrection.
Throughout this journey, Jesus has been trying to prepare the disciples for what is to come and educate them about what it really means to be a disciple of his. Three times Jesus tells the disciples explicitly what lies ahead. Each time the disciples fail to grasp what Jesus tells them. Despite occasional glimpses of insight, the disciples still believe that Jesus is going to rise up as a political or military figure. In a complete dismissal of this sort of thinking, Jesus declares quite forcefully that leadership of this sort is not what he intends for himself, nor for those who follow him.
Leadership in the Jesus model is about being of service to others; it is not about prestige and acclamation. Many of the best leaders are those who do not have any title of leadership or authority. Their leadership and authority come from what they do and how they do it. They inspire others to follow their example. They don't demand it; they don't bully; they don't play power games. People simply want to follow their example.

CHILDREN'S LITURGY OF THE WORD: CLOW
Last Sunday we discussed what Jesus was saying to the young rich man in the gospel reading who wanted to know what he should do to have eternal life. Apart from obeying the commandments, Jesus asked him to sell all he had and give it to the poor. This made the man sad as he was very wealthy and instead of wanting to use his wealth to benefit others, he wanted the money for himself. We talked about that as children they do not have a lot of money, but, they have other gifts or 'wealth' that they can use to help others such as helpfulness, friendliness, kindness and joyfulness. This is what Jesus calls us to do – to love everyone and to put others before ourselves.

2024 CATHOLIC MISSION
This weekend is the appeal for the Catholic Mission. This year, as we heard from the Archbishop's talk last week, is focussing on Mongolia, a landlocked country surrounded by China in the south and Russia on its northern border.

This week, you're invited to partner with the Church in Mongolia to help deliver essential services to people who need it most. Lack of access and social stigma mean that some of the most vulnerable people are not getting the support they require.

The House of Mercy will provide a haven for many people, including those affected by homelessness and domestic violence. Without your partnership, people in need will go without the assistance they require.

During World Mission Sunday, we are called to "Invite others to the banquet", and we invite you to share the warmth of God's love with our brothers and sisters who need it most in Mongolia. You can support this work by using the appeal envelope, going online at catholicmission.org.au/mongolia, or scanning the QR code. Your gift will also assist many other Church programs around the world.
